About the Book

A stirring true story of triumph and recovery from breast cancer

Avril was diagnosed with breast cancer in March 2011. After a mammogram she was called back to receive the devastating news that she had breast cancer. She felt well, had no symptoms, had never smoked, ate a healthy diet and exercised regularly, so how could this be? There was no explanation, it can happen to anyone!

Author Avril Dalziel Saunders says '...I want to inspire and encourage these women as well as women all over the world to have regular checks. ...my profit from the book sales will go to Breast Cancer Care and Macmillan Nurses.

I am shouting this out loud...'MAMMOGRAMS SAVE LIVES!'...
